

Employment Rate data is anecdotal due to the low number of graduates returning surveys and so faculty collect information directly from students and approximately 95% of students report being employed within a year of graduation.